

Kehillah Synagogue to publish a new, fully-transliterated edition of the High Holidays Prayer Book
*Hadesh Yameinu, Renew Our Days.

Have you ever opened your prayer book and wished it were fully transliterated?

Well, your wish has been granted!

Your Kehillah Synagogue proudly announces the forthcoming, fully-transliterated, version of our High Holidays prayer book Renew Our Days (Hadesh Yameinu).

Renew Our Days by the late Rabbi Ron Aigen Z"l of Dorshei Emet, Montreal is a Reconstructionist machzor largely faithful to the traditional Hebrew liturgy, yet with a contemporary, liberal theology. It is gender-neutral with complete linear translation.

This new version, which we have completed following Rabbi Aigen' passing, adds a column of transliteration to every page. This extra column is a superb way to let readers follow the Hebrew, and even learn Hebrew since the Hebrew text, transliteration, and English translation are side-by-side. Everyone will be on the same page and people with difficulty following Hebrew can easily follow and participate. For congregants who do not read Hebrew, this new edition provides a more engaging High Holiday experience for everyone.

This new version will be available for the 2018 High Holidays. Pre-orders now will ensure we receive them by September 1, 2018.

Producing a new edition has been an exciting venture for our Synagogue, but also an expensive enterprise. To help us plan our run size, please consider pre-ordering copies for yourself, loved ones, and the Kehillah.

A nameplate will be placed in each book listing your name and where appropriate, in whose honor or memory the gift was made. The cost is $50 for each of the first four (cost $200 with a fifth book free), and each additional book is $40. The Books purchased for the Synagogue are fully tax deductible.

Please send all pre-orders of Renew Our Days with the number of books desired, your name and in whose honor or memory the gift was made, to the Kehillah Synagogue
